DIVISION SEVEN (continued)

B197613 People (Not for Publication)
v.
Sanchez

The judgment is conditionally reversed. On remand the trial court is to conduct an in camera review of the requested personnel records, as identified in this opinion, for relevance. If that review reveals no relevant information, the trial court shall reinstate Sanchez's original judgment of conviction and sentence. If that review reveals relevant information, the trial court must order disclosure, allow Sanchez an opportunity to demonstrate prejudice and order a new trial if there is a reasonable probability the outcome would have been different had the information been disclosed. If Sanchez is unable to show any prejudice, the original judgment is to be reinstated. In all other respects the orders of the trial court and Sanchez's convictions are affirmed.

Perluss, P.J.

We concur: Woods, J.
Zelon, J.
